

To whom it may concern,

I am writing as the owner and designer of Sydney based label Ramp Tramp Tramp Stamp (RTTS) as a reference for Georgia McGregor. From the beginning of November 2022 till the end of February in 2023 Nicole interned at RTTS once a week for a 4 hour day. In that time she not only demonstrated a very well rounded knowledge of fashion design and production but more importantly was very willing to learn, ask questions and did all tasks assigned to her with care and attention to detail. I have had a number of interns and I can say that Georgia has been among the most professional of them, she was always at the internship on time. While interning at RTTS Georgia did tasks varying from quality control, liaising with manufacturers, assisting on photoshoots, production research, social media and marketing based tasks, spreadsheet and fulfillment based tasks involving coordinating stockist wholesale orders, fabric and trim sourcing and tech pack generation amongst others. I felt that she did all these jobs with a level of natural understanding and ease, and as mentioned above wasn't afraid to check in or ask for help or clarification when needed. She took great interest in the running of the brand from the design, to production to sales and marketing aspects and was always approaching her work with curiosity and passion. Working in a small fashion brand can be intense and chaotic as there is a lot of hat changing, and Georgia took this in her stride. All in all I can recommend Georgia as a professional, enthusiastic and attentive person who would be an asset to any company or project she chooses to engage with. Should you like a further recommendation or have any questions about Georgia's experience interning at RTTS do not hesitate to email me at niamh@ramptramptrampstamp.com or call me 0480 260 247.

Thanks
